

Checks

Every check must read OK; the cover shows the count

Illustrative figures for privacy: modeled on the business's size, channels and products, not its actual results

Check	Difference	Status
The balance sheet balances at the opening and at every month end	—	OK
Cash flow ending cash equals balance sheet cash at December 31	—	OK
Cash flow opening cash equals the opening balance sheet	—	OK
Income statement net income equals the sum of the twelve months	—	OK
Cash flow statement starts from the same net income	—	OK
Cash flow statement ending cash equals the balance sheet	—	OK
Equity statement ending balance equals balance sheet equity	—	OK
Balance sheet statement: total assets equal the monthly model	—	OK
Balance sheet statement balances	—	OK
Merchandise sales equal the SQL control total	—	OK
Sales by channel equal sales by product line	—	OK
Orders equal the SQL control total	—	OK
Budget shares add up to 100%	—	OK
Cash is never negative (shows the shortfall if it is)	—	OK
Inventory is never negative (shows the shortfall if it is)	—	OK
Checks failing	0	